

Priest,

Today, as we celebrate the wonder of the Trinity in our lives, we make our prayers with confidence in the infinite generosity of our God.

We pray for the Church; that she may ever more effectively proclaim Christ who leads all to the Father in the Holy Spirit.

Lord, in your mercy.

We pray for leaders of nations; that they may listen to one another with respect and mutual understanding, and be instruments of peace.

Lord, in your mercy.

We pray for our parish family; that they may be witnesses to and examples of the love of the Blessed Trinity.

Lord, in your mercy.

We pray for those who are sick, especially: Coby, John Cosgrove, Andy McDougal, Gabi Hesk, Keith D and Niamh Silver, Grace Davids and all those displayed on Our Lady's Altar, that they may find strength and endurance in the love of Christ.

Lord, in your mercy.

We pray for those who have died recently, especially: Martin Gray, Christine Salthouse, Kathleen Quinn, Dave Connor, Pam Tyler, Hazel Hands and Jean Lupo together with Wendy Knowles, Peter Hancock, Antony Kalathara and Michael Gregory whose birthdays or anniversaries are at this time, that they may be welcomed into the joys of eternal life.

Lord, in your mercy.

Let us pray in silence for our own intentions.

Let us ask Mary, the Mother of the Church to take her prayers with ours, as we pray, Hail Mary...

Priest,

Father, help us to profess, with our words and with our lives, your undivided unity with your Son and with the Holy Spirit. We make this prayer through Christ, our Lord. Amen.
